

Election TV Debate and 'FactCheckUK' controversy – what now?

Centre for Brexit Studies Researcher David Hearne has shared his views, thoughts and expertise around the current General Election proceedings, ITV's Election Debate and the controversy surrounding the 'FactCheckUK' Twitter account.

In a video shared today, David also discusses if the General Election is a two horse race, and if including Lib Dem Leader Jo Swinson and SNP's Nicola Sturgeon would have made an impact on the TV debate.

The expert also discusses what we can expect from the last three weeks left of Election campaigning.
