

Global Britain and the UK's international success post-Brexit

A panel of experts are set to discuss and analyse the UK's role in the international landscape post-Brexit.

Following on from an explosive US Presidential Election and approaching the end of the transition period, the Centre for Brexit Studies next online event will discuss a 'Global Britain'.

A panel of experts will discuss and analyse the UK's role in the international landscape post-Brexit and what our future relationship with the United States, and wider world, could look like in the next decade.

The event will also discuss President-elect Joe Biden and the impact he could have on the UK and the Brexit process.

The event, taking place online on Wednesday 25 November from 9.00am-10.30am, will be hosted by Professor Alex de Ruyter, Director at the Centre for Brexit Studies. The event will be followed by Q&A from the audience and the opportunity for viewers to get involved.

Panel Members:

Hosted by Professor Alex de Ruyter – Director at the Centre for Brexit Studies.

Professor Julian Beer – Deputy Vice-Chancellor at Birmingham City University and President of the Greater Birmingham Transatlantic Chamber of Commerce.

Jill Rutter – Senior Research Fellow at UK in a Changing Europe.

Professor Scott Lucas – Professor of International Politics at University of Birmingham and Editor of EA WorldView.
